

Scotty McDog Meets Kitty O'Cat

Denia Phipps

Denia Phipps

The musical score is written in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 4/4 time signature. It includes an Intro, a Chorus, and Verses. The lyrics are written in blue text below the notes. Chord diagrams are provided above the staff lines, showing fingerings for C, D, and G chords. The score is divided into measures, with measure numbers 5, 9, 13, 17, and 21 indicated at the start of their respective lines.

Intro

Chorus

5 Scotty McDog was an unhappy dog. his best friend had gone a -way.

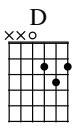

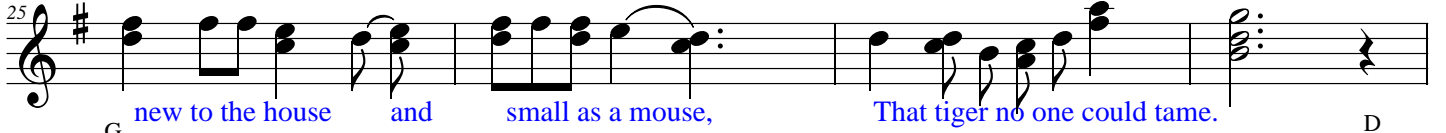

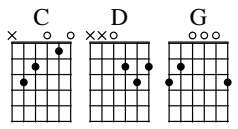

9 No one could cheer him, or even get near him. He'd be mad, sad, and lonely all day. His

Verses

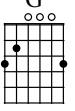

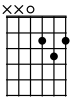

13 owners thought if they went and bought him a playmate he'd surely surren -der His

17 heart to the kit -ten with little white mittens, but Scotty's heart wasn't that tender! Like

21 any good kit -ten, with play she was smit -ten, and Kit -ty O'Cat was her name. Though new to the house and small as a mouse, That tiger no one could tame.

25

29

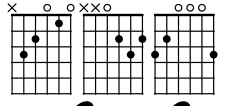

Early this morning, with no sort of warning, Kitty pounced on the dog, who was sleeping. His sweet dream destroyed, he was truly annoyed! He'd ignore all her mewing and leaping. She circled around the tired old hound, determined to get a reaction. She pranced and she walked! She hunkered and stalked! McDog opened his eye just a fraction.

33

37

41

45

Chorus Scotty McDog was an unhappy dog. his best friend had gone a -way. This cat was a pest who would give him no rest! He'd be mad, sad, and lonely all day. Scott tried not to hear her, he wished he weren't near her, but Kitty was hard to ignore! She kept on insisting, despite his resisting, 'cause that's what she thought dogs were for. Dog stretched long and sat with his back to the cat, his tail twitching slowly...like bait. She spun and she hissed! She batted...but missed Scotty's tail - her reaction was late! No longer a pup, Scott's dander was up. The scamp should not have disturbed him! He'd teach her a lesson in only one session. There was no doubt that Kitty perturbed him. He growled and he nipped! He barked, charged, then slipped. It was funny the way that he missed her! He slid on his back, which spoiled the attack, and delighted his new kit- ty sister.

49

Verses

53

57

61

65

69

73

77

81

Chorus

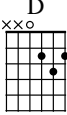

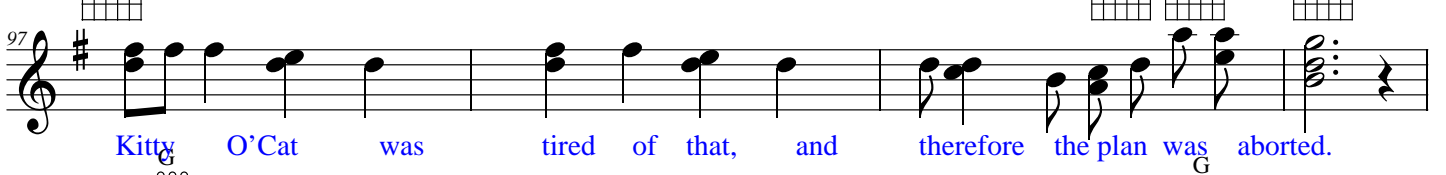

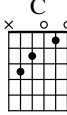

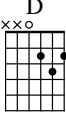

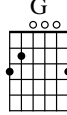

85 Scotty McDog was an unhappy dog. his best friend had gone a way. This

89

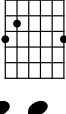

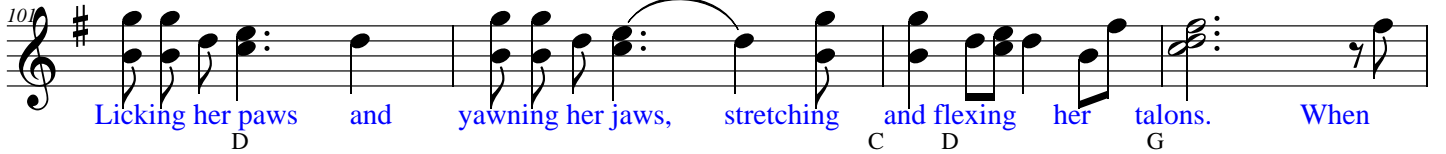

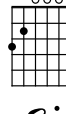

cat was a pest who would give him no rest! He'd be mad, sad, and lonely all day. Scott confronted again this pesky new friend whose sneaky attack he had thwarted. But

93

97

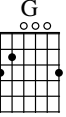

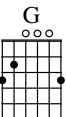

Kitty O'Cat was tired of that, and therefore the plan was aborted.

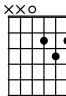

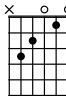

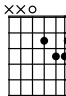

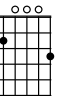

101

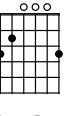

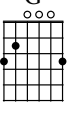

Licking her paws and yawning her jaws, stretching and flexing her talons. When it came to a tussle of tooth, claw, and muscle, old Scott wasn't much of a challenge. She came 109  up to old Scott, not giving a thought, and licked his black nose so sweetly  It sur-

105

113     prised him, but pleased him, that Kitty appeased him. She won the dog over completely! He lay

117  lay down for a rest, Kitty curled at his chest. They cuddled in front of the fire. For 121     though she was silly, Scott liked O'Cat, really, and was glad they'd decided to buy her!

Chorus 125   Scotty McDog was a happier dog. His best friend was gone, that's true. But 129     he found a new pal, a fun little gal, and her hijinks had made him less blue.